

SIRAVYAN'S PARAJANOV

📍 National Gallery of Armenia

👤 admin admin

The exhibition "Siravyan's Parajanov" is dedicated to Henrik Siravyan's 95th and Sergey Parajanov's 100th birth anniversaries. It presents Siravyan's more than five dozen paintings and graphic works depicting Parajanov. The exhibition also embraces artworks from the film director's museum collection, which make "Siravyanesque" character of Parajanov more comprehensive. While creating the eccentric picture of Sergey Parajanov, Siravyan demonstrated a special approach, which speaks of his flexible portraiture brush. The great film director, who lived his life in a unique way and turned it into art, faced the difficulties of life, imprisonment, persecutions, and acquired the image of a fantastic hero in Siravyan's works. The thematic paintings depict Parajanov in an imaginary colorful world, where everything is original and beautiful, and the center of the world is himself, the MAN-HOLIDAY...

The exhibition is accompanied by a trilingual catalogue (Armenian, English, Russian).

Exhibition curator: Zaruhi Dilanyan.

The exhibition will be open on October 9 from 6:30 PM.
